1 PACE NETWORKING NIGHT
Tuesday, January 22, 6:30-8 p.m., Von Lee Conference Room
PACE Networking Night offers a valuable opportunity for students to chat with guests from different fields who will answer questions about their work and career paths. A pizza supper will be provided.

The format will be small groups of students talking with guests for about 15 minutes each before moving to the next table, with a time period at the end for revisiting guests or informal chatting.

Featured guests will include:
- Aviva Orenstein, attorney, Maurer School of Law faculty, Director of the Child Advocacy Clinic
- Alex Lopez, IU Alum, Director of the Corporation for National & Community Service
- Skip Daley, entrepreneur who ran for Monroe County office this year
- Alexa Lopez, recent IU alum who has worked with political campaigns
- Lee Ann Jourdan, IU Alum, Executive Director of Girls Inc.

3 2013 PACE ISSUE FORUM

Only a few seats remain for the annual PACE Issue Forum—enroll soon!

PACE-C 400 Issue Forum: Climate Change: What Should We Do About It?, 1 cr., class #25628, meets only on Saturday, Feb. 23. After a pre-forum short reading response paper, students attend the Forum on Saturday, Feb. 23, and then write a position paper afterward. The one-day practice in democratic deliberation is structured around a complex issue facing the community or society as a whole. Participants will experience dialogue and deliberation with others from various perspectives while forming a position on the issue. Students will also be asked to reflect on the experience and skills practiced. Students may take C400 (1 credit) and attend the Forum multiple years for up to 3 credits total.

5 INTENSIVE FRESHMAN SEMINAR INTERNSHIP

Interested in working as an intern with Prof. Alex Lichtenstein, History, for an Intensive Freshman Seminar next August? He will conduct a "Reacting to the Past" role-playing game module, modeling deliberation in the civil rights movement, 1963. You would serve as a teaching assistant for the course, which meets July 30 to Aug. 16. IFS usually hires current first and second year students to do this; these students live in a dorm with the new freshmen. Please contact Prof. Lichtenstein about your interest, lichtens@indiana.edu (or Joeline with any questions). You can find a description of the module at http://reacting.barnard.edu/struggle-civil-rights-birmingham-memphis-1963-1966#cnotact.
6 | HUMAN RIGHTS INTERNSHIP
The Southern Center for Human Rights' Human Rights Internships provide undergraduate, graduate and law students with hands-on training in all areas of capital and civil rights litigation and advocacy. Each year students from schools across the country and abroad spend an entire semester or summer at the Southern Center completing a variety of assignments under the supervision of experienced staff. Interns assist staff attorneys in all aspects of work. Students enrolled in semester long programs may receive academic credit from their schools, while those in our summer long program often receive work study or other financial support from their schools. This summer's internship program will begin May 27, 2013 and continue through August 2, 2013. Interns are expected to be present during this entire period. Applications (including a cover letter with email address, recent resume, writing sample, and list of references) should be submitted to Patrick Mulvaney at pmulvaney@schr.org. http://www.schr.org/about/internship

When applying, include the dates you are interested in interning and the number of hours you are available. All internships are filled on a rolling basis and require a minimum commitment of 10 hours per week. Submit internship applications to internships@ilrf.org. Include the title of the position you are applying for in the subject of your email.

8 | BASIC MEDIATION TRAINING
Feb. 9, 10, 23, 24
The Community Justice and Mediation Center (CJAM) is offering 'Basic Mediation Training' from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Feb. 9, 10, 23 and 24 at the IU Maurer School of Law. Participants must attend both weekends to complete the course. Tuition is $200 with discounts possible for students with financial need. The class size is limited to 24. While the training is provided to build CJAMs ranks of trained volunteer mediators, it is valuable for anyone who regularly encounters conflict, such as teachers, ministers, journalists, lawyers, counselors, social service and health care providers, law enforcement officers, and human resource managers. CJAM is a leader in collaborative decision-making, conflict resolution and restorative justice. Its mediators work with business managers, customers, homeowners, landlords, roommates, non-profit boards, juvenile offenders and victims of crime. Minimum age is 16. Please contact (812) 336-8677 or training@cjamcenter.org. http://cjamcenter.wordpress.com
