PACE Courses for Spring

1 SPRING 2016 COURSES THAT COUNT TOWARD THE PACE CERTIFICATE
See PACE courses and electives offered as you prepare to enroll for spring at this link:
http://www.pace.indiana.edu/forms/Spring%202016%20PACE%20courses.pdf

2 PACE-C 400 ISSUE FORUM, CLASS#10668, 1 CR., 1 DAY MEETING, TOPIC ANNOUNCED
The topic of the 2016 Forum is Abortion and Reproductive Rights. Choose class#10668 to enroll for spring.
The PACE C-400 Issue Forum is a 1 day, 1 cr. class that meets on Saturday, Feb. 27, with a back-up date in case of bad weather (Sat, March 5). It is open to any undergraduate at IU Bloomington, with some seats reserved for students in the College of Arts & Sciences. Class requirements include preparation readings and writing and a post-Forum assignment to complete, in addition to participation in the Forum. The Issues Forum is organized and led by PACE’s trained student moderators. Students who attend the Forum will hear the perspectives of expert panelists, participate in small group dialogues, and practice working with various perspectives on complex issues. Call with any questions, 812.856.7882. http://pace.indiana.edu/C-400IssueForum.shtml

Events of Interest

3 AUTHOR TA-NEHISI COATES TO SPEAK AT IU
Friday, October 23, 12:30 p.m.; Musical Arts Center
Ta-Nehisi Coates, one of the nation’s most original and influential writers about race, is the author of "Between the World and Me," written in the form of an emotional letter to his teenage son and addresses what it means to be black in America. He is among this year’s 24 recipients of "genius" grants from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation. The foundation called Coates, "a highly distinctive voice (who is) emerging as a leading interpreter of American concerns to a new generation of media-savvy audiences and having a profound impact on the discussion of race and racism in this country." Free tickets available at the MAC box office and at https://oss.ticketmaster.com/aps/iumac/EN/buy/browse?q[0]=16793.

4 THE BUILDING BRIDGES SYMPOSIUM: THE CIVILITY SOLUTION; FINDING COMMON GROUND IN A CHALLENGING WORLD
Saturday, Oct. 24, 8:45 a.m.-3:00 p.m.; The Warehouse, Monroe County Convention Center [note new location]
A free community event to gain insight on how we, as good citizens, can use and advocate for civil discourse to find common ground in a challenging world. Former member of the US House of Representatives, the Honorable Lee Hamilton, will deliver a keynote address on political incivility and will be followed by an address from the Reverend Mark Fenstermacher of First United Methodist Church on religious incivility. The event will also host two panel discussions consisting of Matt Pierce, Vi Simpson, and the keynote speakers, moderated by Herald Times Editor in Chief Bob Zaltzburg. Guests will also enjoy a civil discourse demonstration.

5 ERASING STEREOTYPES
Tuesday, October 27, 7 p.m.; IMU State Room East
Are you interested in issues of social justice? Do the problems of police brutality, racial profiling, unfair treatment within the criminal justice system, and stereotyping bother you? Come join the Ladies of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated, The IU chapter of National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the Political and Civic Engagement program for a night of productive dialogue and action. You will help determine which topics will be discussed and in which small group or groups you will participate. There will be dessert refreshments and great discussion you won’t want to miss! All you need to bring is yourself, an open mind, and willingness to participate! We can’t wait to see you and hear what you have to say. We are Erasing Stereotypes on our way to progress. See you there! For more information, contact Sidney Harris at sidlharr@indiana.edu.

6 POYNTER CENTER WELCOMES TWO ALUMNI VIA THE COLLEGE LUMINARIES PROGRAM

Meet & Greet the Luminaries Reception
Sunday, November 8, 5:30-7:00 p.m., Grunwald Gallery of Art
See more about these College alum at http://college.indiana.edu/alumni/luminaries/ and register to attend the event.

Working in Washington: Internet Politics and Policy
Monday, November 9, 9:30 - 11:00 a.m.; Poynter Center, 618 E. Third St.
Libby Baney is the founding Executive Director of the Alliance for Safe Online Pharmacies (ASOP), a globally active nonprofit organization based in Washington, D.C., where she shapes public policy, and advocates for increased international attention to issue of illegal online drug sellers. In addition to her work for ASOP, Libby is a Senior Director at FaegreBD Consulting and Counsel with Faegre Baker Daniels LLP where she works on Internet policy, intellectual property rights, pharmacy, telemedicine/telehealth, and pharmaceutical supply chain matters.

Journalism in the age of #BlackLivesMatter: The Pitfalls and Progress of Covering Race in America
Monday, November 9, 1:00 - 2:30 p.m.; Poynter Center, 618 E. Third St.
Eric Deggans is NPR’s first full-time TV critic. A journalist for more than 20 years, he is also the author of Race-Baiter: How the Media Wields Dangerous Words to Divide a Nation, a look at how prejudice, racism and sexism fuels some elements of modern media. Now serving as chair of the Media Monitoring Committee for the National Association of Black Journalists, he also has served on the board of directors for the national Television Critics Association and the board of the Mid-Florida Society of Professional Journalists.

7 LABOR & CIVIL RIGHTS EVENTS

A series of events with award-winning labor and civil rights historian Michael K. Honey discussing the intertwined struggles for economic and racial justice in the American past.

LOVE AND SOLIDARITY IN THE STRUGGLE FOR LABOR RIGHTS: Learning from nonviolent revolutionary James Lawson
Tuesday, November 10, 7 p.m.; IU Cinema Film screening
Join director and historian Michael Honey for a screening of his recent short film about the work of James Lawson, who served as nonviolent theorist, teacher and organizer for Martin Luther King, Jr. and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, among others. As a Methodist minister in Los Angeles, Lawson has spent the last thirty years organizing low wage immigrants and workers of color in Los Angeles, using the principles of nonviolent direct action.

SHARECROPPERS’ TROUBADOUR: John Handcox, the Southern Tenant Farmers’ Union, and the African American Song Tradition
Wednesday, November 11, 6-8 p.m.; IMU Persimmon Room, Public Lecture and Performance
The STFU in the 1930s Great Depression sang and organized the way forward for the civil rights movement in the South, and John Handcox wrote the songs. Come learn about the hidden history of Black Freedom Song in America.

Leadership, Internships & Careers

8 APPLY FOR A SENATE INTERNSHIP TODAY!
Each year, the Indiana State Senate offers Hoosier students a chance to participate in their state government. Spring semester internships are available to college sophomores, juniors, seniors, graduate students and recent college graduates who are Indiana residents or are enrolled at an in-state university. The 2016 Senate Internship will begin in January and end in mid-March. The Senate Republicans offer internships and the Senate Democrats hire legislative interns who work directly with one or two lawmakers, as well as interns specializing in the fields of communications, law, policy and public finance. The deadline to submit an application for the 2016 program is October 31.
http://indianasenatedemocrats.org/opportunities/internships/
http://indianahousedemocrats.org/intern
http://www.indianasenaterepublicans.com/intern-program/
http://www.indianahouserepublicans.com/house-republican-intern-program/

9 ARTS & SCIENCES CAREER LINK
Arts & Sciences Career Services recently launched a new instance of the Symplicity Career Services Management Product (MyJobs) for undergraduate and graduate students in the College. When you visit http://ascs.indiana.edu, you will find a new ‘Career Link’ button in the top, right-hand corner of the screen. Students can use this link to access the system login screen. From here on, this is the method College students should use to log-in and access the system, request career advising appointments, and view current full-time and internship openings. IUASC5@indiana.edu

Academic & Career Planning Resource Guide for students in the College of Arts & Sciences:
http://college.indiana.edu/undergrad/AcademicCareerPlanningResourcesHandout.pdf
GLOBAL CAREER PANEL
October 28, 6-8 p.m., Global & International Studies Building, Auditorium (Room 0001) and Atrium
Employers with an international focus will be in Bloomington to discuss opportunities for an international career and answer your questions about the globalizing workforce. The Global Career Panel will feature 9 employers from a wide variety of industries and consist of a panel discussion, a catered reception and a chance to speak directly with the individual employers. Come with questions and be prepared to learn about different ways you can contribute to the world as a professional. All students are welcome to attend.

HUNGRY FOR SUCCESS? COME DISCOVER THE PATH TO A CAREER YOU’LL LOVE
Wednesday, November 4, 5:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.; Tree Suites, Indiana Memorial Union Geared towards freshmen and sophomores, but is open to all students and all majors. Do you have questions regarding your major or career path? Are you interested in getting a leg up on your future? Come enjoy an evening with free food & giveaways, hear from student leaders as well as specialized career services representatives, gain tools and information regarding your degree requirements, and get closer to determining a major and/or career path.

PICKERING FELLOWSHIP THROUGH THE WASHINGTON CENTER
The U.S. Department of State has selected The Washington Center as its operating partner for the 2016 Thomas R. Pickering Foreign Affairs Fellowship. Established in 1992, the Pickering Fellowship is one of the State Department’s premier recruitment programs aimed at increasing diversity among U.S. Foreign Service officers. The Fellowship is designed to attract outstanding individuals from all ethnic, racial and social backgrounds who have an interest in pursuing a Foreign Service career with the U.S. Department of State. Women, members of minority groups historically underrepresented in the Foreign Service and students with financial need are encouraged to apply. http://www.twc.edu/thomas-r-pickering-foreign-affairs-fellowship-program?utm_medium=email&utm_source=liaison_president&utm_campaign=pickering&utm_content=pickering_launch_10_2015

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE
Graduating seniors who have a strong interest and academic work in international affairs may apply for the Junior Fellows Program for the 2016-2017 program year at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, a private, non-profit organization dedicated to advancing cooperation between nations and promoting active international engagement by the US. Junior Fellows have the opportunity to work at the Endowment in Washington, DC for the period of one year and provide research assistance to scholars working on Carnegie Endowment’s projects. This year Junior Fellows are needed in such areas as Democracy and Rule of Law Program, Nuclear Policy Program, or Energy and Climate Program. If selected, candidates must be available to work for one year beginning August 1, 2016. To apply for the College’s internal competition, students must first register with and pick up application materials from Ms. Rebekka Potter in the College of Arts and Sciences Undergraduate Academic Affairs Office (Owen Hall 104); contact 812-855-1647. The deadline for delivery of all materials to Owen Hall 104: Monday, November 16, 2015 at 5:00 p.m. http://www.carnegieendowment.org/about/index.cfm?fa=jrFellows.