COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS EVENT – save the date and reserve your spot
Wednesday, April 2, 4:15-5:45 p.m.; Maurer Law School Rm. 310, Faculty Lounge
This event offers a valuable opportunity for students to network with political and civic leaders from different fields who will answer questions about their work and career paths. Come for professional development and to explore new opportunities. Appetizers will be provided.
The networking begins at 4:15 with an informal reception. The roundtable set-up, one guest per table, will accommodate small groups for ten-minute discussions before moving on to the next table, with a time period at the end for revisiting conversations with certain guests or for informal chatting.
Our guests will be:
- Toby Strout, Executive Director, Middle Way House
- Matt Pierce, Representative, Indiana State Legislature
- Carl Lamb, Attorney, Carl Lamb and Associates
- Matt Press, Entrepreneur/Developer, Neighborhood Solutions
We have limited seating available. Please email pace [at] indiana.edu to reserve a place by Friday, March 28.

BREAKFAST WITH ASSISTANT TO PRESIDENT OBAMA, BEN RHODES
ONLY two seats remain at this event!
The Center on Congress at IU, directed by Lee Hamilton, has invited Ben Rhodes to visit our campus in two weeks. Mr. Rhodes is Assistant to President Obama and Deputy National Security Advisor for Strategic Communications and Speechwriting. View Mr. Rhodes’ bio at: http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/author/Ben%20Rhodes. And an article about him from The New York Times: http://www.nytimes.com/2013/03/16/world/middleeast/benjamin-rhodes-obamas-voice-helps-shape-policy.html?pagewanted=all&_r=0
Would you like to attend a Continental breakfast with Mr. Rhodes on Monday, April 7, around 8-9:15 a.m.? Mr. Rhodes will speak for 10-15 minutes on matters of interest (public service, writing for the President, foreign policy, etc.), then the remaining time will be opened up for Q&A. To attend, please contact pace[at]Indiana.edu by Friday, March 28, to request one of the seats reserved for PACE students. We will reply to let you know the details of the event.

PEACEBUILDING, POLITICS & PEOPLE POWER—ORGANIZING FOR CHANGE WORKSHOP
Monday, April 7, 6:30 – 8:00 p.m., Woodburn Hall 002
This is an advocacy skills workshop with lots of great information!
A great need exists in our country and world for a comprehensive and coordinated approach to preventing and resolving violent conflict. The growing rate of incarceration and increasing reliance on warfare and militarism in international conflict has sparked a movement of engaged citizens and organizers who are taking action to reverse these trends. In Washington, DC, The Peace Alliance and Student Peace Alliance (SPA) are working to empower communities and students to advocate for legislation and policy that will enhance our capacity to reduce and resolve conflict and violence through prevention and early intervention. Student chapters across the country are learning how to take effective action in support of bipartisan bills like the Youth PROMISE Act, aimed at curbing the school-to-prison pipeline. Sally Kaplan, a former PACE student and the SPA National Coordinator, will be presenting with her colleague Dan Kahn on how students can get involved to impact their policymakers.
FALL 2014 PACE CERTIFICATE UPDATES

See the list of fall courses offered that will count for the PACE certificate at http://go.iu.edu/atJ. This link also appears on the homepage of the PACE website.

PLEASE note: the flat fee tuition charge now will cover 12-18 credit hours. A per-credit-hour fee is charged if you are enrolled in under 12 credits or for each credit over 18.

AND there is a new function in your OneStart Student Center that allows you to more easily view your progress in the PACE certificate, if it has been added to your degree objectives (this may not have yet been done if your degree is outside the College of Arts & Sciences). If you review the report and believe a course is not counting as it should, please contact Joelene Bergonzi to resolve the matter. Here is the path to find the report:

• Go to the OneStart Student Center;
• Choose the Advising 2 tab;
• Click View My Adv. Report;
• On the AAR menu that appears, select the Acad Program drop down menu to switch to the PACE certificate – which is marked as “Arts & Sciences Ugrd Nondeg (Politcl & Civ Eng...)
• It will return a report that shows progress in the certificate.

Internships, Careers, and Conferences

LAUNCH YOUR CAREER WITH GLOBAL SERVICE: PEACE CORPS EVENT—TODAY

Tuesday, March 25, 6 p.m. - 7 p.m.; Indiana Memorial Union, State Room West

Peace Corps top ranking recruitment director, Helen Lowman served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Thailand from 1988-90. She credits that experience with inspiring her career trajectory including working for Peace Corps as a country director in China and Mongolia and as a regional director overseeing programs in Europe, the Mediterranean and Asia. Lowman will speak about how Peace Corps service helped shape her own life’s work and offer advice on how to build a career that is rewarding both personally and professionally. The event also offers a unique opportunity to meet a top agency official who is helping to spearhead innovations to Peace Corps recruitment model and who can describe the important work volunteers are doing around the world. http://www.peacecorps.gov/

PEACE CORPS SEND OFF CELEBRATION & RETURNED VOLUNTEER PANEL—TOMORROW

Wednesday, March 26, 5 p.m. - 7 p.m.; Career Development Center, 625 N. Jordan Ave

Peace Corps Associate Director Helen Lowman and a panel of Returned Peace Corps Volunteers will share their experiences making a difference as volunteers around the world, and explain how Peace Corps continues to play a role in their lives, both personally and professionally. The panel will be followed by recognition of those Hoosiers who have and will serve in Peace Corps and an open gathering. This event is free/open to the public.

Campus Events of Interest

THE ORIGINAL RAINBOW COALITION: BLACK PANTHER PARTY, YOUNG LORDS, & YOUNG PATRIOTS

Friday, March 28, 3:30 p.m.; Schuessler Institute for Social Research, Rm. 100, 1022 E. 3rd St.; refreshments served

Would you believe that a group of white men sporting Confederate flags would physically protect Black Panther members from the police? This is one outstanding example of the success of the Original Rainbow Coalition in creating interracial solidarity. “Poison” Gaddis (ILBPP), Lynn French (ILBPP), Jose “Cha Cha” Jimenez (Young Lords) and Hy Thurman (Young Patriots) will participate in a panel discussion led by Dr. Jakobi Williams. The activists will discuss the racial, social, and political conditions that existed in Chicago during the late 1960s to demonstrate the ways in which the Illinois Black Panther Party’s community organizing methods and revolutionary self-defense ideology significantly influenced Chicago’s machine politics, grassroots organizing, racial coalitions, and police behavior.

LECTURE BY LEE A. FEINSTEIN, FORMER U.S. AMBASSADOR TO POLAND

Tuesday, April 1, 4 p.m.; Presidents Hall (located in Franklin Hall)

Honoring Indiana University’s first Vice President for International Affairs for his distinguished service to IU in support of international engagement. Lee A. Feinstein, the newly appointed founding dean of the IU School of Global and International Studies, has more than two decades of experience serving in high-level positions in diplomacy and foreign affairs. A former U.S. ambassador to the Republic of Poland from 2009 to 2012, Feinstein has had a distinguished career in and out of government. A noted scholar-practitioner, Feinstein has served two secretaries of state and a secretary of defense and has worked at the nation’s top research institutes, including the Council on Foreign Relations and the Brookings Institution. He is the author most recently with Tod Lindberg of Means to an End: U.S. Interest in the International Criminal Court (Brookings Institution Press, 2009, 2011). Feinstein was national security director to former Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton during her 2008 presidential campaign and then served as a senior foreign policy advisor to President Barack Obama during the general election. Feinstein was principal deputy director of policy planning under Secretary of State Madeleine Albright and was previously senior advisor on peacekeeping policy in the Office of the Secretary of Defense. Live-streamed and archived video of the event will be available at http://www.broadcast.iu.edu/
9  LIFE AFTER IU: “CITY, NOT A TOWN” RELOCATION EVENT
Thursday, April 3, 7 p.m.; School of Public and Environmental Affairs (PV 273, 274, 277, 278)
You’ll soon be making the jump from B-town to the big city. But where are you going to live? In this “City, Not a Town” session, hear from real-estate experts—representing New York City, Chicago, Washington D.C., and Indianapolis—and get the tools you need to land a perfect place of your own. Free food. Register online: http://alumni.indiana.edu/lifeafteriu.

10  ETHICS OVER TEA—BOSS VS. FRIEND: WHEN THE PROFESSIONAL GETS PERSONAL
Wednesday, April 9, 11:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.; The Poynter Center, 618 E. Third St.
Coffee, tea, and treats will be provided; feel free to bring a brown bag lunch if desired.
Share your thoughts and questions at this open discussion moderated by Kelley School professor Josh Perry.
Ethics Over Tea discussions emphasize student voices and invite IU undergrads of all majors to share their views and ask tough questions. Faculty and others are welcome to sit in with an RSVP. This is part of the Talking About Ethics Series, co-sponsored by the Hutton Honors College, Poynter Center, and Wells Scholars Program. Got a topic? Email eayoung@indiana.edu.