1. PEACEBUILDING, POLITICS & PEOPLE POWER—ORGANIZING FOR CHANGE WORKSHOP

Monday, April 7, 6:30 – 8:00 p.m., Woodburn Hall 002

This is an advocacy skills workshop with lots of great information!

A great need exists in our country and world for a comprehensive and coordinated approach to preventing and resolving violent conflict. The growing rate of incarceration and increasing reliance on warfare and militarism in international conflict has sparked a movement of engaged citizens and organizers who are taking action to reverse these trends. In Washington, DC, The Peace Alliance and Student Peace Alliance (SPA) are working to empower communities and students to advocate for legislation and policy that will enhance our capacity to reduce and resolve conflict and violence through prevention and early intervention. Student chapters across the country are learning how to take effective action in support of bipartisan bills like the Youth PROMISE Act, aimed at curbing the school-to-prison pipeline. Sally Kaplan, a former PACE student and the SPA National Coordinator, will be presenting with her colleague Dan Kahn on how students can get involved to impact their policymakers.

2. APPLY FOR PACE INTERNSHIP SCHOLARSHIPS

PACE offers scholarships to students who are planning an internship to fulfill the certificate requirements. Two of these are $500, the Steven and Lisa Block awards.* The rest of the scholarships are $250. You can send a note to apply for a scholarship as you are setting up your summer or fall experience. See the details at: http://pace.indiana.edu/program/funding.shtml#funding1

*The priority deadline to apply for the Block awards has been extended to April 15.

Considering an internship or starting to think about it? Check the resources at the website, http://pace.indiana.edu/program/internship.shtml.

You may set up an appointment to consult with the PACE internship director by calling the office. The forms needed to approve your enrollment in the internship credit are the internship site letter of understanding signed by your site supervisor and the C410 proposal, both of which you will bring in when you meet to discuss your arrangements. Call 812.856.1747 or 812.856.7882

PACE-C 410 internship credit must be completed before taking PACE-C 450 Capstone Seminar – so BEFORE the spring of senior year.

Still too early for you to do an internship? Be sure to enroll in PACE-C 295 to continue your exploration and clarification!

3. SUMMER AND FALL 2014 COURSES

See the list of fall courses offered that will count for the PACE certificate at http://go.iu.edu/atJ. This link also appears on the homepage of the PACE website.

Summer 2014 courses that count may be viewed at http://pace.indiana.edu/forms/Summer%202014%20PACE%20courses.pdf.

PLEASE note: the flat fee tuition charge now will cover 12-18 credit hours. A per-credit-hour fee is charged if you are enrolled in under 12 credits or for each credit over 18.
NOW YOU CAN SEE YOUR OFFICIAL PACE ADVISING REPORT

There is a new function in your OneStart Student Center that allows you to more easily view your progress in the PACE certificate, if it has been added to your degree objectives (this may not have yet been done if your degree is outside the College of Arts & Sciences). If you review the report and believe a course is not counting as it should, please contact Joelen Bergonzini to resolve the matter.

Here is the path to find the report:

• Go to the OneStart Student Center;
• Choose the Advising 2 tab;
• Click View My Adv. Report;
• On the AAR menu that appears, select the Acad Program drop down menu to switch to the PACE certificate – which is marked as “Arts & Sciences Ugrd Nondeg (Politcl & Civ Eng...)
• It will return a report that shows progress in the certificate.

5 LECTURE BY LEE A. FEINSTEIN, FORMER U.S. AMBASSADOR TO POLAND
Tuesday, April 1, 4 p.m.; Presidents Hall (located in Franklin Hall)
Honoring Indiana University’s first Vice President for International Affairs for his distinguished service to IU in support of international engagement. Lee A. Feinstein, the newly appointed founding dean of the IU School of Global and International Studies, has more than two decades of experience serving in high-level positions in diplomacy and foreign affairs. A former U.S. ambassador to the Republic of Poland from 2009 to 2012, Feinstein has had a distinguished career in and out of government. A noted scholar-practitioner, Feinstein has served two secretaries of state and a secretary of defense and has worked at the nation’s top research institutes, including the Council on Foreign Relations and the Brookings Institution. He is the author most recently with Tod Lindberg of Means to an End: U.S. Interest in the International Criminal Court (Brookings Institution Press, 2009, 2011). Feinstein was national security director to former Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton during her 2008 presidential campaign and then served as a senior foreign policy advisor to President Barack Obama during the general election. Feinstein was principal deputy director of policy planning under Secretary of State Madeleine Albright and was previously senior advisor on peacekeeping policy in the Office of the Secretary of Defense. Live-streamed and archived video of the event will be available at http://www.broadcast.iu.edu/

6 SUMMER JOBS FAIR
Wednesday, April 9, 1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.; Alumni Hall, Indiana Memorial Union
Students: looking for a summer job? IU’s Summer Jobs Fair is an excellent opportunity for students who are staying in the Bloomington area over the summer. Employers will be on hand to recruit summer employees to fill full and part-time vacancies on and off campus. If you are looking for a summer job, you will not want to miss this event! To see a list of attending employers, visit: http://cdc.indiana.edu/experience/job-fairs.html

7 INTERVIEWING FOR INTROVERTS
Wednesday, April 9, 6:00 p.m.; Career Development Center, 625 N. Jordan Ave.
Does the idea of interviewing make you nervous? Does meeting strangers and talking about career paths sound exhausting to you? Introverts are those of us who gain energy from within ourselves, rather than through the external environment. Because we tend to be more quietly reflective, it can be daunting to engage in networking and interviewing, two activities that are essential to a successful job search. Join some Career Development Center staff for a workshop where we will address these issues and strategize for success! To RSVP, visit https://onestart.iu.edu:443/ccl-prd/ajax/public/social/8981945
