Welcome Week edition!
If you’d like to learn more about the PACE program and how it fits with your goals and areas of study,--Or if you’re ready to apply and have not yet had a consultation with the Associate Director--
Set up an advising appointment by dropping by Ballantine 132 or calling 812-856-1747. And be sure to visit the PACE table at the College of Arts & Sciences Majors Expo, Thursday, August 20, 3:00-4:00, Alumni Hall. You can swing by Culture Fair afterward!

Events of Interest
1 BASIC MEDIATION AND RESTORATIVE JUSTICE TRAINING
Sept. 12, 13, 19, 20 and 26; Maurer School of Law
The Community Justice and Mediation Center (CJAM) is offering 40-hour training for those interested in learning about conflict resolution, mediation, and restorative justice.
Participants will learn:
• Interpersonal skills in communication and listening
• Problem solving and negotiation
• Basic Mediation skills
• Increased understanding of restorative justice philosophy and methods
• The sources of conflict, and the processes leading to constructive conflict resolution
• Victim-Offender Mediation
Tuition is: $300; $250 if received by August 30. Limited number of scholarships available, please call CJAM (812) 336-8677. Included in the tuition for the training: Lunch, continental breakfast, training materials, certificate of completion. See the instructions for registering at http://www.cjamcenter.org/our-programs/basic-mediation-training/. Register by Sept. 7.

The training benefits any community member interested in managing conflict and its resolution. Those who volunteer with CJAM after the training work as “apprentices,” working alongside mediators and restorative justice practitioners who have had significant experience as lead facilitators in our programs. The training is led by senior mediators and restorative justice practitioners.

Career, Leadership & Internship Opportunities
2 ARTS & SCIENCES CAREER LINK
Arts & Sciences Career Services recently launched a new instance of the Symplicity Career Services Management Product (MyJobs) for undergraduate and graduate students in the College. When you visit http://ascs.indiana.edu, you will find a new ‘Career Link’ button in the top, right-hand corner of the screen. Students can use this link to access the system login screen. From here on out, this is the method College students should use to log-in and access the system, request career advising appointments, and view current full-time and internship openings. 3 VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY: NEWS REPORTERS AT WFHB

WFHB Community Radio is seeking dedicated community members to contribute to their Daily Local News program in conjunction with Community Access Television Services. These positions offer the opportunity to educate people about local government by creating engaging, relevant news reports. Experience with radio is not necessary, as training is provided, but familiarity with City and County government and public policy is critical. Volunteers must be able to commit to at least three hours per week, either from the station or from home. This is a great opportunity to get hands-on experience in broadcast journalism or to earn class credit. Minimum age is 18. Please contact the WFHB News Department at news@wfhb.org or (812) 323-1200. www.wfhb.org
