IU Bloomington Events of Interest

6 SEMINAR—STILL NOT ETHICAL: THE NATIVE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE OF HEALTHCARE

Wednesday, September 10; Poynter Center for the Studies of Ethics and American Institutions

American Indians suffer health disparities at much greater rates than any other population in the United States which, at first glance, is a contradiction considering the U.S. Public Health Service provides healthcare through the Indian Health Service (which was first an entity of the U.S. War Department). Medical treatment for American Indians is one of the very few treaties upheld by the U.S. Government, yet this population still experiences basic challenges such as access, appropriate care, language and cultural barriers with health care providers, lack of resources and deep mistrust of governmental agencies. This session will discuss ethical issues related unique to this population and how to align cultural issues within an existing health care system.

7 New student group to prepare for conference: COLLEGE YOUTH IN GOVERNMENT

Some IUB students are working on starting a student organization to prepare legislation, policy, or judicial arguments for this conference. Contact Caroline Wallace at carewall@indiana.edu if you are interested in the group. http://www.collegeyig.org/

College Youth in Government (YIG) is a 5-day program held at the YMCA Blue Ridge Assembly in Black Mountain, North Carolina from January 16-20. It incorporates all three branches of our government into one conference: legislative, judicial, and executive of which each delegate chooses to participate in only one for the duration of the conference. What makes this conference unique is that if legislation passes through the conference, it is then forwarded to Washington D.C. and the bill author is invited to meet his or her Congressional representatives and discuss their bill. There are also guest speakers that hail from all forms of the political spectrum. This is a program that is NOT just about debating; this is not another Forensics team. This is a model government of the United States and is unlike any conference that IU has participated in before. Contact Caroline Wallace at carewall@indiana.edu if you are interested in the group.
